‡ Sale price. † This price is per share, not per cent. x Ex-dividend.

STATE AND MUNICIPAL BONDS.

It is not the custom in quoting municipal bonds to include accrued interest in the price given. Hence this accrued interest must in all cases be added on. There are a very few instances which form exceptions to the rule—that is where the prices given are flat prices, the accrued interest having been taken into account in making them. These are indicated by a special mark, thus (*).

The figures in the column "to net" indicate the basis on which the securities sell or the interest rate which the securities, if held to maturity, will net to the purchaser at the present market price.

BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES.

Quotations for the stocks of banks and trust companies are given per share, not per cent, with the exception of New York City, Brooklyn and Canadian bank stocks.

Prices marked thus (*) indicate sales. The dagger (†) prefixed to a price indicates that the figures show the book value.

Where names of the banks are printed in italics, fuller returns may be found in the advertising columns in the front part of the paper.

REVIEW OF APRIL.

Court decisions played an unusually prominent part in affairs during April. Of foremost importance was the decision of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in the action of the Government against the Northern Securities Company. It was held (all the Judges concurring) that the Northern Securities Company was a combination in violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Law of 1890. The decision, on account of its far-reaching importance, was very disturbing, particularly as the decree in favor of the Government as at first outlined was exceedingly drastic, it having been proposed to enjoin even the payment of dividends. Counsel for the Northern Securities Company, however, finally succeeded in having the decree modified so as to allow the continuance of dividends pending the appeal to the United States Supreme Court.

Another decision of considerable importance was that rendered on Tuesday April 28 by the Court of Appeals of this State, declaring the Ford Franchise Tax Law constitutional. This decision was also that of a unanimous court, and it reversed the decision of the Appellate Division rendered the previous January. The Appellate Division had held that the Ford Law to tax special franchises was illegal on the ground that it violated the home-rule principle of the State Constitution. The Court of Appeals, however, declares that there is no interference with home rule because "property created by legislation and never intrusted by it to the local assessors (special franchises never previously having been taxed) cannot be said to have been taken away from them." This decision being more limited in its scope exerted no such depressing effects as marked the decision of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in the Northern Securities Company's case. In fact it exerted only momentary influence on the stock market.

The Court of Appeals of this State also rendered a decision declaring unconstitutional the eight-hour provision of the Penal Code. The provision referred to makes it a misdemeanor for any person or corporation contracting with the State or with a municipal corporation to require more than eight hours' work for a day's labor. The Court of Appeals, in an opinion by Judge Cullen, in which the whole court concurred, holds that the law is not a proper exercise of the police power of the State and unduly discriminates between the same contractor working for the State and for a private party. Early in the month there was another decision which played some part in affairs. We refer to the refusal of Judge Lurton in the United States Circuit Court at Cincinnati, on April 6, to continue the temporary injunction against the Union Pacific Co., restraining it from voting its holdings of Southern Pacific stock at the annual meeting of the Southern Pacific Company. This ruling proved inconclusive, since notice of an appeal to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals was given, and pending the appeal the election of directors was by agreement postponed indefinitely. The pool in Southern Pacific stock which Mr. James R. Keene had engineered, having expired, was dissolved.

Labor troubles continued very prominent during the month, but there were some favorable developments. For instance, the contemplated strike on the Manhattan Elevated road was avoided, and so was the threatened strike on the New York New Haven & Hartford Railroad. In the anthracite coal regions the miners at the Reading mines stopped work for a time on account of dissatisfaction with the hours of work, but this difficulty also was smoothed over through the action of the officials of the United Mine Workers' Organization.

In the matter of the attack on the Metropolitan Street Railway Company arising out of the allegations made by W. N. Amory, interesting testimony was brought out in the latter's libel suit against President Vreeland. An investigation by three separate sets of accountants demonstrated conclusively that the allegations were without foundation.

An event of the month was the announcement that a number of trust companies would withdraw from the Clearing House, owing to the latter's action in requiring the keeping of larger cash reserves after June 1. The Union Trust Company took the lead in the movement, and gave definite notice of withdrawal.

In the money market easier conditions developed. Surplus reserves April 25 were reported $10,985,475, against only $2,130,825 April 4. Applications for the conversion of 3 and 4 per cent bonds under Secretary Shaw's refunding proposition came in in large amounts.

The stock market was severely depressed early in the month by the decision in the Northern Securities Company case. This decision was made public on Thursday, April 9, before the close of business, and had somewhat of an adverse effect on prices on that day. The next day was Good Friday, and the Exchange remained closed both on that day and on Saturday. When it reopened for business on Monday, the 13th, very severe breaks in prices occurred throughout the list, and very gloomy views prevailed. Later on, however, a more hopeful view of the situation was taken, encouraged by the modification of the decree of the court permitting the continuance of dividends. The conclusion was also reached that some way of arranging the matter would be found, even though the decision of the court should on appeal to the United States Supreme Court be sustained. Another favorable influence was the auspicious reports as to the condition of the growing winter-wheat crop. Altogether the result was a considerable recovery from the extreme low figures of the month, which were also the lowest of the year in a great majority of instances. The Stock Exchange was closed on the 22d because of the ceremonies in connection with the opening of the new Stock Exchange building, in which business was resumed on the 23d.

The tendency of foreign exchange early in the month, when money rates still ruled high, was towards low figures; but after the 15th sharp advances occurred and the close was at practically the highest figures of the month. On the 28th a shipment of $500,000 gold was made to Paris by the Merchants' National Bank of Philadelphia and on Wednesday $500,000 gold was engaged for export to Buenos Ayres.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

MONTHLY AND YEARLY RECORD.

The following tables furnish a complete record of the New York Stock Exchange transactions for the past month and the year 1903. They need no extended introduction, as they are self-explanatory. The tables embrace every security (excepting only State bonds) dealt in on the Exchange. We give bonds first, using the classification adopted in the official list. As to prices the form is our own, and we think it will be found to contain just the facts desired by our readers and to present them in the most convenient way for study and reference. All quotations in the column headed "Prices about January 2, 1903," were made on that date, except those in italics, which are the nearest in January, 1903, The black-faced letters in the column headed "Interest Period" indicate in each case the month when the bonds mature.

§ Less than 10 shares. a Ex-rights. b Ex-dividend and rights. c Trust Co. certificates. d Anaconda Mining now quoted per cent.

NOTE.—On March 31, 1902, the Stock Exchange began quoting mining shares having a par value of over $10 on a per cent basis instead of dollars per share. Mining shares with a par value of less than $10 are still quoted in the old way, that is, per share. e Ex-stock dividend. f 1st instalment paid. g 2d instalment paid. h 50% paid. i 3d instalment paid. j 4th instalment paid.

BOSTON STOCK EXCHANGE.

A very elaborate and comprehensive report of the dealings on the Boston Stock Exchange is now given in the CHRONICLE each week. We therefore discontinue our monthly record.

GENERAL QUOTATIONS

—OF—

BONDS AND STOCKS.

1. In the following twenty-eight pages of tables quotations are given for all securities listed on any Stock Exchange in the United States; also for all leading unlisted and inactive securities for which we have been able to obtain reliable prices.

2. Quotations from all Stock Exchanges are as near as possible for the last day of April. Of course the coupon if there be one, maturing between the date of quotation and the date of this publication, is not deducted from the price.

3. Bond prices marked thus (§) indicate that the purchaser must pay accrued interest in addition to the price given The method of quoting on the New York Stock Exchange is to quote the prices flat (that is to include the accrued interest in the price), and hence in the tables below no mark is now affixed where this method of quoting is followed.

4. Stock prices marked thus (†) are per share. All others are per cent except bank stock prices.

5. It should be borne in mind in the use of these tables that the quotations for many inactive and unlisted securities are merely nominal, but in all cases the figures are obtained from sources which are considered reliable.

6. The following abbreviations are often used, viz.; "M.," for mortgage; "g.," for gold; "g'd.," for guaranteed; "end.," for endorsed; "cons.," for consolidated; "conv.," for convertible; "s. f.," for sinking fund; "l. g.," for land grant: "op." for optional.

7. The black-faced type in the letters showing the interest periods indicates in each case the month when the bonds mature.

☞We no longer affix a mark to prices quoted flat, but only to those which require payment of accrued interest in addition to the price. Designating mark in this instance is (§).

STATE AND MUNICIPAL BONDS.

It is not the custom in quoting municipal bonds to include accrued interest in the price given. Hence this accrued interest must in all cases be added on. There are a very few instances which form exceptions to the rule—that is where the prices given are flat prices, the accrued interest having been taken into account in making them. These are indicated by a special mark, thus (*).

The figures in the column "to net" indicate the basis on which the securities sell or the interest rate which the securities, if held to maturity, will net to the purchaser at the present market price.

BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES.

Quotations for the stocks of banks and trust companies are given per share, not per cent, with the exception of New York City, Brooklyn and Canadian bank stocks.

Prices marked thus (*) indicate sales. The dagger (†) prefixed to a price indicates that the figures show the book value.

Where names of the banks are printed in italics, fuller returns may be found in the advertising columns in the front part of the paper.

PINE ST., CORNER OF PEARL ST., NEW YORK.

REVIEW OF MAY.

Severe liquidation on the Stock Exchange was again the most prominent characteristic of the financial markets during May. Quite a number of circumstances and conditions operated to promote the downward movement. Among these may be mentioned (1) the continued unrest of labor, leading to difficulties between employer and employee in nearly all parts of the country and in many different lines of trade; (2) a decline in the iron and steel markets, which was given an exaggerated degree of importance; (3) the continued speculative manipulation of the cotton market under which values for the staple advanced to a new hign level; (4) export shipments of gold on quite an extensive scale; (5) rumors that some large operators on the Stock Exchange were short of cotton and had been obliged to dispose of some of their stock holdings in order to protect their deals in the cotton market; and (6) pronounced liquidation on the Montreal Stock Exchange with severe declines in Dominion Iron & Steel and Dominion Coal Company stocks (dealt in on the Boston Stock Exchange) accompanied by rumors that certain Canadian financial interests were either already embarrassed or likely to become embarrassed. These latter rumors found confirmation the early part of the next month (June) in the failure of the important house of A. E. Ames & Co.

Labor troubles continued unusually prominent. There was improvement in certain directions, but new outbreaks in other directions. Among the latter may be mentioned the strikes and lock-outs that developed in the building trades in this city, and which for the time being brought building operations in New York and Brooklyn almost to a standstill. The threatened strike on the Great Northern Railway was averted and the Union Pacific likewise reached a settlement with its shopmen, boilermakers and some other employees who had been on strike for quite a long while.

In Denver, where strikes and lock-outs have been the feature almost everywhere, an arrangement was entered into between the General Executive Committee of the labor unions and the newly-formed Citizens' Alliance, as a result of which the men returned to work. Differences are to be settled through arbitration, the Citizens' Alliance, however, having gained its point that business men should have the right to engage union and non-union men alike. At the cotton mills at Lowell the manufacturers announced their determination to open the mills on June 1, with a view to seeing whether enough operatives could be got to resume the running of the mills. On the other hand, in the textile trades at Philadelphia a strike was precipitated by the workers at the close of the month with the idea to forcing employers to grant a shorter work schedule. The formation of business men's organizations throughout the country so as to meet more effectively the arbitrary action of labor unions was continued, and in a great many instances (as for example in the conflict just noted at Denver) a considerable measure of success attended the movement.

The speculation in cotton was carried still further, new interests having taken hold, as more fully related in the CHRONICLE of May 16 in our article on the "Financial Situation." The upward flight in prices extended to both the spot market and to contracts for future delivery. The spot price of middling uplands on May 20 got up to 12·15 cents, with the close May 29 (May 30 being a holiday) 11·70 cents. At 12·15 cents the spot price was the highest reached in this market since July 31 1890. These exceptional figures led to the return of some American cotton from Europe, and also induced some of the mills in this country to dispose of their stocks of cotton rather than to work the cotton up into manufactured goods.

With the approach of the time (June 1) when the Clearing House regulation as to the keeping of a 5 per cent cash reserve by the trust companies was to go into effect, the withdrawals of trust companies from Clearing House privileges became quite numerous. Counting those which had previously given notice to that effect, nine companies altogether withdrew, these being the Union Trust, the United States Mortgage & Trust, the Continental Trust, the New York Security & Trust, the Mercantile Trust, the Morton Trust, the Trust Company of America, the Fifth Avenue Trust and the Metropolitan Trust. Seventeen trust companies with aggregate deposits of about 146 million dollars retained their connection with the Clearing House, these being, however, only a small portion of the grand total of deposits of the trust companies in this city and Brooklyn, which, according to the returns made to the Superintendent of Banks at Albany the first of the year, numbered 49 and had aggregate deposits of $746,221,130.

While the downward tendency of prices on the Stock Exchange was in progress throughout the whole month, the volume of business the early part was rather small. There were reports then of considerable damage to the growing winter-wheat crop from unusually cold weather, but these reports were soon disproved. When the decline in prices assumed large proportions the volume of dealings was very much increased and on Monday, May 25, exceeded one million shares—1,122,389 shares. The declines were large and general, as may be seen by our detailed statements on subsequent pages; in most instances high-priced investment properties suffered even more severely than the low-priced shares. The early part of the month the conclusion of preliminaries for the control of St. Louis & San Francisco by the Rock Island had a beneficial effect on the values of the stocks concerned, but though definite announcement of these early rumors came on the 11th the movement was short-lived. In the general market the lowest prices of the year were reached during the month in the great majority of cases.

Money rates remained comparatively easy, notwithstanding the disturbance in the stock market and notwithstanding that surplus reserves did not rule very high. The cash holdings of the Clearing House banks increased from $237,621,900 May 2 to $239,201,500 May 16 and were $237,915,600 May 29. Surplus reserves fell from $11,181,850 May 2 to $8,992,625 May 16 but recovered to $9,645,150 May 29. The total of loans rose from $914,079,000 May 2 to $928,939,200 May 16 after which it again underwent contraction and was reported $922,975,900 May 29.

In the foreign exchange market rates ruled high and the feature was a large outflow of gold. The Transvaal loan was brought out on the other side and proved a tremendous success. With this loan (which had been expected for a long time) out of the way, the Bank of England on the 21st reduced its minimum rate of discount from 4 per cent to 3½ per cent, at which figure it had stood since October 2 1902.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

MONTHLY AND YEARLY RECORD.

The following tables furnish a complete record of the New York Stock Exchange transactions for the past month and the year 1903. They need no extended introduction, as they are self-explanatory. The tables embrace every security (excepting only State bonds) dealt in on the Exchange. We give bonds first, using the classification adopted in the official list. As to prices the form is our own, and we think it will be found to contain just the facts desired by our readers and to present them in the most convenient way for study and reference. All quotations in the column headed "Prices about January 2, 1903," were made on that date, except those in italics, which are the nearest in January, 1903, The black-faced letters in the column headed "Interest Period" indicate in each case the month when the bonds mature.

NOTE.—On March 31, 1902, the Stock Exchange began quoting mining shares having a par value of over $10 on a per cent basis instead of dollars per share. Mining shares with a par value of less than $10 are still quoted in the old way, that is, per share. e Ex-stock dividend. f 1st instalment paid. g 2d instalment paid. h 50% paid. i 3d instalment paid. j 4th instalment paid.

BOSTON STOCK EXCHANGE.

A very elaborate and comprehensive report of the dealings on the Boston Stock Exchange is now given in the CHRONICLE each week. We therefore discontinue our monthly record.

GENERAL QUOTATIONS

BONDS AND STOCKS.

1. In the following twenty-eight pages of tables quotations are given for all securities listed on any Stock Exchange in the United States; also for all leading unlisted and inactive securities for which we have been able to obtain reliable prices.

2. Quotations from all Stock Exchanges are as near as possible for the last day of May. Of course the coupon if there be one, maturing between the date of quotation and the date of this publication, is not deducted from the price.

3. Bond prices marked thus (§) indicate that the purchaser must pay accrued interest in addition to the price given. The method of quoting on the New York Stock Exchange is to quote the prices flat (that is to include the accrued interest in the price), and hence in the tables below no mark is now affixed where this method of quoting is followed.

4. Stock prices marked thus (†) are per share. All others are per cent except bank stock prices.

5. It should be borne in mind in the use of these tables that the quotations for many inactive and unlisted securities are merely nominal, but in all cases the figures are obtained from sources which are considered reliable.

6. The following abbreviations are often used, viz.; "M.," for mortgage; "g.," for gold; "g'd.," for guaranteed; "end.," for endorsed; "cons.," for consolidated; "conv.," for convertible; "s. f.," for sinking fund; "l. g.," for land grant: "op." for optional.

7. The black-faced type in the letters showing the interest periods indicates in each case the month when the bonds mature.

☞ We no longer affix a mark to prices quoted flat, but only to those which require payment of accrued interest in addition to the price. Designating mark in this instance is (§).

STATE AND MUNICIPAL BONDS.

It is not the custom in quoting municipal bonds to include accrued interest in the price given. Hence this accrued interest must in all cases be added on. There are a very few instances which form exceptions to the rule—that is where the prices given are flat prices, the accrued interest having been taken into account in making them. These are indicated by a special mark, thus (*).

The figures in the column "to net" indicate the basis on which the securities sell or the interest rate which the securities, if held to maturity, will net to the purchaser at the present market price.

BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES.

Quotations for the stocks of banks and trust companies are given per share, not per cent, with the exception of New York City, Brooklyn and Canadian bank stocks.

Prices marked thus (*) indicate sales. The dagger (†) prefixed to a price indicates that the figures show the book value.

Where names of the banks are printed in italics, fuller returns may be found in the advertising columns in the front part of the paper.
